Dear Parishioners,

It's good to offer sacrifice to make up with someone any time we wrong them.

It's better to re-think attitudes or renounce habits that have led us to act unjustly toward someone in the first place, and to re-dedicate ourselves to treating them justly in the future.

It's best, though, to seek, cultivate, and cherish love for God and neighbor in our hearts; to incline us, not just away from the bad but toward the good... and to leave us disposed to forgive wrongs committed against us, as we seek God's forgiveness for wrongs we've committed.

While to err may be human and to obey may be praise-worthy, to love and forgive are, indeed, divine. Let us pray for each other, that God might cultivate the virtue of selfless love in our hearts, that we might share its fruits with others and be united with (and in) Christ, whose love is without limit and whose kingdom is without end.

Peace and God Bless,
Fr. Mike

If you're aware of a parishioner who is homebound, in the hospital or in rehab, please be sure to let Sr. Patricia know. She can be reached at posullivan3@juno.com or at 589-0104. She'd rather hear twice than not at all. Thank you.

Catholics and the Election

Hilda Barradas, Arlo Uriarte, Mary Nunnery and I attended Bishop Robert McElroy's presentation at St. Dunstan's, "Forming Consciences for Faithful Citizenship." He commented that we are "bifurcated" as Catholics since neither party includes all the principles we hold dear. He said that the Life and Dignity of the Human Person is pre-eminent and that one must also take into consideration the other six principles of Catholic social teaching. These were in the flier you received earlier from the Bishops' Conference, but here they are again: the Call to Family, Community and Participation; Rights and Responsibilities; Option for the Poor and Vulnerable; Dignity of Work and Rights of Workers; Solidarity; and Care for God's Creation. He spoke at length about the importance of following our well-informed conscience, one that has taken the Gospel and Catholic teaching seriously and prayerfully. He also suggested consulting with someone whose wisdom we trust, being careful not to choose a person we know will agree with us. May the Spirit guide each of us! S. Sheral
