Dear Parishioners,

Last year before the London Summer Olympics, the 1981 film Chariots of Fire was released for the big screen. It's a stirring true story about British runners at the 1924 Olympics—one of them the Scottish sprinter Eric Liddell. The movie accurately depicts Liddell as a devout Christian. And though it shows him explaining his athletic motivation in words he probably never spoke - "When I run, I feel his presence" - the line is a window into how Liddell related to God in his real life.

"When I run I feel his presence". Think about that statement for a minute. Are there times when you experience God's delight in you?

How would you fill in the blank? "I feel God's presence when I....."

Do you rest secure in the knowledge that your Father loves and affirms you? Or do you feel overlooked by a God who finds you wanting more? If you are between these two poles, as many of us, you'll find an important message in Jesus' baptism.

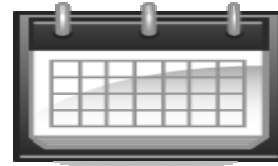

Why do you think that the sinless son of God embraces a baptism of repentance? One simple answer is this: so that each of us could hear our Father say, "You are my beloved child, with whom I am well pleased"! This isn't wishful thinking. When you were baptized, you were united to Jesus and drawn into his relationship with the Father. That means that as you seek it out, you really can experience the Father's love for you!

Do you believe that God rejoices in you? If you're not living in that reality, ask Him for whatever you need to restore that baptismal flow of love - insight, healing, a spirit of repentance - then not only when you're running, praying, or working, but at all times you can rejoice in your identity as a beloved child of God.

God Bless

Deacon John
