Dear parishioners,

Ask and it will be given to you; search and you will find; knock and the door will be open. We know from our experience there are all kinds of prayers and reasons for praying. Sometimes we pray because we are in need of God's help. Sometimes we pray because we are grateful for a gift received or for a day in which we seem particularly blessed. Sometimes, when filled with regret or remorse, we seek forgiveness because of the harm we have caused or the loving action we have failed to do. Sometimes we pray just because we want to worship and honor a loving, all-compassionate God.

For whatever reason, Jesus encouraged his followers and encourages us to persist, to not give up and to keep asking. The one prayer that Jesus specifically taught, the father, contains much reason for praying. Jesus encourages us to pray for the kingdom—the vision he has of a just and loving society and the world. He says it's okay to pray for our human needs: for bread for food to nourish us, for food to eat and food to share. Most especially, he suggests that we ask for forgiveness of our sins, and that we might forgive others as God forgives us. He tells us keep asking, keep knocking - God will hear our prayer and will respond, often in totally unexpected ways. To pray that God's name be hallowed and that God's kingdom come, is to acknowledge that all barriers to love must be dissolved. Anything that separates race from race, rich from poor, gender from gender, age group from age group, Christian from non-Christian is a barrier to the holiness God wishes to share with believers. Biases have no place in the community that names God our father. Jesus also calls us in Sunday's gospel to persevere in prayer. God is more gracious than a friend who reluctantly gets up in the night to help us. Graciousness does not guarantee that we get what we think we want. We may not receive what we ask for; we may instead discover more than we were looking for or be surprised at what's behind the door on which we are knocking.

God bless
Deacon John
